Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the District Director, Boston, Massachusetts, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant was born on April 17, 1983, in Peru. The applicant's father, [redacted] was born in Peru in June 1954 and became a naturalized U.S. citizen on June 7, 1996. The applicant's mother, [redacted] was born in Peru in October 1956 and never had a claim to United States citizenship. The applicant's parents married each other on October 23, 1981, and divorced on June 24, 1994. The applicant was lawfully admitted for permanent residence on August 31, 1983. The applicant is seeking a certificate of citizenship under § 322 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1433.

The district director reviewed the record and concluded that the applicant had failed to establish he was in the legal custody of his father and denied the application accordingly.

On appeal, the applicant's father states that he was awarded joint custody of the applicant by the court in a judgement of divorce on June 24, 1994.

Section 322. CHILD BORN OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES; APPLICATION FOR CERTIFICATE OF CITIZENSHIP REQUIREMENTS

> (a) APPLICATION OF CITIZEN PARENTS: REQUIREMENTS.-A parent who is a citizen of the United States may apply to the Attorney General for a certificate of citizenship on behalf of a child born outside the United States. The Attorney General shall issue such a certificate of citizenship upon proof to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the following conditions have been fulfilled:
>
> (1) At least one parent is a citizen of the United States, whether by birth or naturalization.
>
> (2) The child is physically present in the United States pursuant to a lawful admission.
>
> (3) The child is under the age of 18 years and in the legal custody of the citizen parent.
>
> (4) If the citizen parent is an adoptive parent of the child, the child was adopted by the citizen parent before the child reached the age of 16 years and the child meets the requirements for being a child under subparagraph (E) or (F) of § 101(b)(1).
>
> (5) If the citizen parent has not been physically present in the United States or its outlying possessions for a period or periods totaling not less that 5 years, at least 2 of which were after attaining the age of 14 years-

[redacted]

(A) The child is residing permanently in the United States with the citizen parent, pursuant to a lawful admission for permanent residence, or

(B) A citizen parent of the citizen parent has been physically present in the United States or its outlying possessions for a period or periods totaling not less than 5 years, at least 2 of which were after attaining the age of 14 years.

(b) ATTAINMENT OF CITIZENSHIP STATUS; RECEIPT OF CERTIFICATE.-Upon approval of the application (which may be filed abroad) and, except as provided in the last sentence of § 337(a), upon taking and subscribing before an officer of the Service within the United States to the oath of allegiance required by this Act of an applicant for naturalization, the child shall become a citizen of the United States and shall be furnished by the Attorney General with a certificate of citizenship.

The record reflects that the applicant's parents were granted a divorce on June 24, 1994. A separation agreement dated June 24, 1994 was incorporated in and became a part of that judgement. The separation agreement granted the parents joint custody of the applicant and his sister with their principal place of residence with their mother and reasonable visitation rights with the father.

Legal custody of a child as an element of derivation contained in the 1940 statute, and in the present law, may follow judicial proceedings which either terminate the marriage completely, as by absolute divorce, or which merely separate the parties without destroying the marital status. Generally, the question of legal custody may be determined by the law of a state or by the adjudication of a court, whether this be in proceedings relating to the termination of the marital relationship or in separate proceedings dealing solely with the question of the child's custody. In the absence of such determination, the parent having actual uncontested custody of the child is regarded as having the requisite "legal custody" for immigration purposes, provided that the required "legal separation" of the parents has taken place. See INTERP 320.1(a)(6).

8 C.F.R. 322.2(a) provides that to be eligible for "expeditious naturalization" under § 322 of the Act, a child on whose behalf an application for naturalization has been filed by a parent who is, at the time of filing, a citizen of the United States, must:

(1) Be unmarried and under 18 years of age, both at the time of application and at the time of admission to citizenship;

(2) Reside permanently in the United States, in the physical and legal custody of the applying citizen parent, pursuant to a lawful admission to citizenship;

[redacted]

(3) Comply with other requirements for naturalization as provided in the Act....

Although the court granted both parents joint custody of the applicant, it decreed that the applicant's principal place of residence was with his mother. Therefore, the applicant was not in both the physical and legal custody of the citizen parent as required.

8 C.F.R. 341.2(c) provides that the burden of proof shall be on the claimant to establish the claimed citizenship by a preponderance of the evidence. The applicant has failed to meet that burden and the appeal will be dismissed.

This decision is without prejudice to the applicant's seeking U.S. citizenship through normal naturalization procedures by filing an Application for Naturalization on Form N-400 with a Service office having jurisdiction over his residence.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
